

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to highly recommend Assisted Home Health Care based on my professional experience as a medical assistant at Cedars-Sinai, where I have worked for the past three years.

During this time, our organization has partnered with Assisted Home Health Care to provide vital in-home services for patients following hospital discharge, as well as for those who are unable to attend care at an outside facility. This collaboration has played an important role in supporting continuity of care and improving patient outcomes.

Assisted Home Health Care consistently delivers exceptional service, marked by timely interventions, clear and effective communication, and a strong commitment to patient-centered care. Their team demonstrates professionalism and reliability, ensuring that patients experience seamless transitions from hospital to home.

The dedication of their staff has led to high levels of patient satisfaction and consistently positive feedback. Time and again, patients and their families express appreciation for the compassionate and high-quality care they receive.

I am confident that any patient referred to Assisted Home Health Care will be in capable and caring hands. Their partnership with Cedars-Sinai has proven to be a valuable asset, and I strongly support their continued collaboration in providing outstanding care to patients.

Sincerely,
Iveth Robles
